

Ava Yuergens & Ben Otto
Philanthropic Youth of
Today Award - 2022
Nominated by Life
Navigators

Ava and Ben generously impact our community by financially supporting and volunteering with numerous organizations serving those with the greatest needs. They lend their direct support to positively impact children, older adults and individuals with disabilities. Ask any educator, mentor, or organization that works with Ava and Ben, and they will share their quiet commitment to making a difference. Together they care about their family legacy of always thinking of their community, and giving back is part of their commitment.

In addition to Life Navigators, Ava and Ben give both their time and financial resources to a number of charitable initiatives including Feed My Starving Children, St. Jude Children's Hospital, Heartis Senior Living and Salvation Army. They are also actively involved in mission and service work with St. Matthew's Church and Brookfield Lutheran Church. At a young age, they already provide charitable gifts to numerous organizations to support needed programming.

Hard work and determination drive Ava and Ben to become future business and real estate leaders. In 2021, Ava and Ben launched their private Real Estate Investment Company, A&B Young Investors, LLC. They are deeply committed to growth and leadership with an emphasis on always giving back and making a difference. Ben is in his Senior Year at Brookfield Central High School and Ava graduated early and is focusing on their real estate company.
